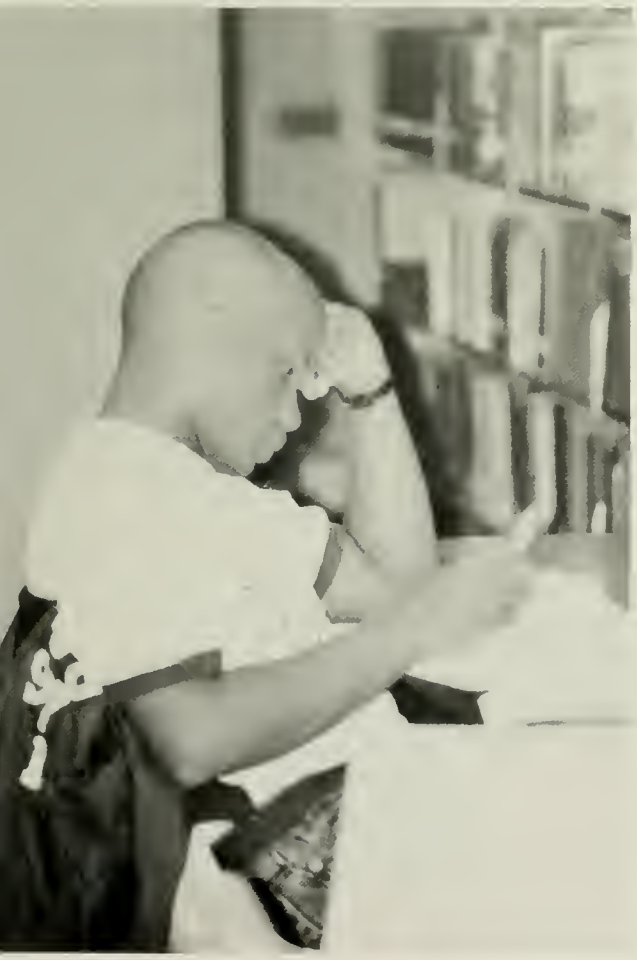
Wendi Whitfield and Stan Rowe take advantage of the beautiful fall day to chat between classes. Yulia Yamskaya, an international student from Russia, hurries past on her way to class.

When the temperature dropped unexpectedly early this fall, these students were prepared — jackets and gloves to deal with the unusually cold weather.

Any open area on campus is a great place for a game of volleyball, even without a net.

Heading for campus, Nick Cooper and Brandon Cole pass the gym construction site.



Rod Parker finds McEwen Library a quiet place to study.

Students for Clinton/Gore give out promotional materials at College Coffee before Clinton's visit. Professor Ann Wooten takes advantage of the free items.

As Elon College is being renovated, from Carlton and Alumni Gym to a brand new student center, Elon's faculty, staff, and especially its students are working toward improvement as well. From year to year, a transition is made, bridging the gap between adolescence and adulthood. Calls to parents become more like calling a friend (except when you ask for money). Classes become more rewarding as bonds form between professors and fellow students. New friendships are made, and as time goes by, they become like the family you have left behind. Day to day, week to week, semester to semester, and year to year Elon grows and we grow with it. We have changed, and so has Elon — it's all A CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE.

Alumni Gym renovations are underway as a part of Elon's "Investing In Excellence" campaign to upgrade facilities for the 21st Century. Construction of the new Campus Center is expected to begin in 1993.

Employees of the Greensboro-based firm Laughlin-Sutton make daily advancements in the reconstruction process of Alumni Gym. Renovation began in June and is expected to be complete in September 1993.

Student Life

From the moment the year began, there was never a dull moment. With choices such as participating in an organization, being a part of a winning team, or just plain hanging out with friends, there was always something for everybody.

For those who lived and breathed on the "wild side," the Neon Moon opened its doors to those who wanted to come and jam to such bands as Dillion Fence and The Connells. And for those who wanted to be down right crazy, there was always "Funk Night" at the Lighthouse.

Cheering sporting events was another favorite pastime of the Elon student body. From football to basketball to baseball, there was always an exciting game to be watched.

All in all, Elon provided something for those of every perspective.

Avoiding the lunch crowd in the Grille, Julie Schenck moved outside to eat and was joined by Drew Clover who stopped to chat.

Parents Weekend was an informative and fun-filled occasion this year, as parents were invited to enjoy "A Taste of the Islands." Festivities were kicked off with morning seminars, giving the parents an opportunity to learn more about the Elon experience. Parents then met with students' advisors, enjoyed lunch under the oaks and took in an afternoon football game. Evening found the Fine Arts Gallery and Terrace alive with the sights and sounds of the Lord Saint Steel Band and the Prince Rupert Dancers. What a way for students to eliminate those homesick blues!

Everyone prepares for the grand entry of the Fightin' Christians before the exciting Homecoming game.

Cheerleader Nick Cooper and Mascot Jason Owen wait to hear the results of the '92 crowning of Homecoming Queen during the halftime presentation.

Having been psyched up in the locker room, Elon's football team charges the field to battle their way to another win.

As sophomores Beth Pointe and Connie Zaleski agree, an exciting part of Homecoming events is meeting up with friends.

A Salute To Disney

It was a beautiful day in Burlington when the Fightin' Christians entered the stadium on Homecoming Day. The parade beforehand attracted many spectators that followed to the game. Much of Elon College turned out to cheer their Fightin' team to victory. The loud cheers and pumped-up team did just that — making the day twice as exciting. A highlight of the day was the crowning of Homecoming Queen Michelle Scott. As the day came to an end and the cheers died down, alumni and students joined in parties and gatherings to take them into the night.

People

Viewed from all different perspectives, Elon College is a place where new possibilities and friendships spring to life. From near and far, people come from different backgrounds not only to become students, but to be part of the Elon community.

Each student at Elon stands out as an individual, and adds their own unique qualities to the lives of others. Not only does the small college atmosphere provide the chance to form lasting relationships, it also provides the chance to share a unique bond with the Elon faculty.

Lacrosse

Just as every Elon team practices daily and plays, so does the lacrosse team. So how does the lacrosse team differ from the other teams? The lacrosse team is Elon's only club team. As a club, not only does the team practice to improve their skills and play such powerhouse schools as UNC-Charlotte, East Carolina and Duke University, but they must also do their own fund-raising. Such fund-raising includes selling tee shirts to support their many activities.

The lacrosse team opened their session with an exhilarating win over UNC-G!

Honors Programs

Many students are rewarded with scholarships for their outstanding academic achievement in high school and success in various competitions with other students. There are three types of Honors programs: Honors Fellows, Leadership Fellows and Teaching Fellows.

The Honors Fellows are chosen through competitions which include interviews and written essays that respond to a given lecture. The Leadership Fellows are obviously chosen for leadership qualities exhibited in high school and their potential to serve as leaders at Elon. The Teaching Fellows are those students who have proven they have what it takes to be a great teacher for the state of North Carolina.

The reward ranges this year from $500 per year to full four-year scholarships. These students worked hard to get what they have earned and Elon has reason to be proud.

Ho Ho Ho, The Stress We Know

Many students on campus have at one time or another experienced the six-lettered dirty word . . . STRESS!!!! The breaking point is at exam time. It is that time of the semester when it seems every professor is convinced that his/her class is the only class you are taking. Henceforth, everything that has been covered from day one is on the exam! Crazy thoughts enter one's mind when this occurs. One student in particular went to the Elon Pantry to buy some junk food in preparation for an all-nighter. When he arrived at the stop light, the individual decided the best thing to do would be to keep going past the Pantry and head for the beach. What beach did not matter. He eventually turned the car around . . . after he had gotten about 20 miles down the road. This is a common symptom of O.S. (aka overly stressed). This particular student carried it out further than what most of us do; we just dream about it. In the end however, we all realize that stress or no stress . . . it was well worth it.

LOOK CLOSELY under the bench . . . It finally snowed! We had one false alarm. In fact, area schools were closed and certain Elon professors were preparing not to come in the next day. Everyone was laughing the next day about how everyone in the areas (and the South) panicked and shut down schools and businesses when the word "snow" is mentioned. Just when we were all about to give up, we were blessed with the white stuff — 1 1/2 inches — plus ice. The ice we did not need. It didn't stay around for long, but it did scare the area schools into closing the following Monday. Guilford County Schools shut down completely and Alamance County/Burlington City were on one to two hour delays. A lot of northern students found it funny that schools close when two inches of snow falls on the ground in the south. Not only do we provide an outstanding education to our northern students, but we provide a great deal of entertainment during the winters, too.

The Drive for Land

Habitat for Humanity builds homes. But how can they build homes for deserving families if they do not have any land? This year Habitat was faced with this problem.

The members knew that the only way they could get land would be if a person in the community donated the land to them. How does a group get someone to part with a tract of land? The answer Habitat came up with was publicity. They decided to call the press and tell them what they were doing. They even slept outside in the cold to prove how dedicated they were. For three days, students and faculty members showed their support. They brought their own boxes and slept in front of Alamance. Each night the numbers of people grew. By the third night, there was approximately 40 people sleeping in boxes.

Finally after meetings with the Town Board of Aldermen and sleeping in boxes, their prayers were answered. Ernest Koury Jr. donated a plot of land to Habitat so they could build a home in the Ballpark community. All their hard work and time paid off. Congratulations Habitat!

SEX is something most college students do at one time or another. But with the rising number of sexually transmitted deceases (STDs) such as AIDS and Herpes, most students have become wiser and use protection when engaging in sexual intercourse. A week has been set aside and designated "Safe Sex Week." Condoms are passed out to students and information is distributed telling students about the risks of having unprotected sex.

Everyone has heard that abstinence is the best protection against STDs, but most students DO engage in sexual activities. If you're going to be sexually active, the safest measure is to wear a condom. It just might save your life.

Everyday at approximately 12:30–4:00 students (both male and female) rush to their television sets. Why? Because it is important to them to see if Nikki and Victor are going to get back together or if Clay is going to stay married. WHO? WHAT?

SOAP OPERAS. They are of vital importance to many students on campus. For those who cannot be in front of the tube to watch their soaps, there are VCRs — they just record them and watch them later. What is the fixation with soaps? When asked, students had various responses. Here are a few:

"To live the life of Victoria; she gets to kiss Ryan."
"To procrastinate doing homework."
"It's addictive . . . I don't know."

Whatever the answer, students can ape for a little while each day to watch other people's problems, which make their own seem very mediocre. It's true. What's having a boyfriend or girlfriend who is not paying attention to you as compared to Brooke, who is stuck in a love triangle with a father (Eric) and son (Ridge)? It's fun, addictive and exciting. And the best part about it is has no calories or consequences (unless you never do any homework because you're watching the soaps.)

WHAT A GORGEOUS VIEW! Photographer Chad Weeks and fellow students from the Costa Rica studies abroad program took to the outdoors for a horseback ride under beautiful blue skies as Monteverde — home to rainforests — spans out before them. Building a Dream

On April 3, 1993 ground was broken. Habitat was finally building their dream as well as that of a deserving family in the community. Habitat had to find the land, but when it did, they took charge. They worked on the house every Friday in the afternoon and on Saturdays from eight in the morning until dark. Why do they do it? For the people of the surrounding community!

The entire college was asked to help and so was the local community. Since Elon works with Alamance County to build Habitat's homes, the work went faster. Why do students do this for years and years? As Steve Messinetti explains, "I fell in love with the whole project and I loved it. It was fun!"

Fun is the key reason students helped build this home. The students grow together and individually throughout the project. So, when Habitat needs help, remember . . . it's not work, it's FUN!

DIGGIN' IN! The groundbreaking ceremony on March 9 for the new campus center encouraged everyone to pick up a shovel! The 74,000 square-foot facility will be on the north campus facing Alamance between the gymnasium and the health center. It will take approximately 20 months to complete the construction. Other festivites for the day included a shovel contest, speakers, souveniors, balloons and refreshments.

The Long Student Center is the location of the new commuter lounge, commuter mailboxes and animosity of many Elon students. Before this year Elon sent commuter students their mail at home, and now these students must go to the new lounge to pick it up. Many commuters were very displeased with this new program, and have boycotted their campus mail. The program has caused problems for the students, but has alleviated many of the high costs the school incurred from first class mailings to the 2,000 (+/-) commuter students. Some students did not even know they had been assigned campus mailboxes until well into the first semester. when they found their boxes, the mailings were outdated and someone else's mail was in their boxes. The discontent was a result of the fact that students had to go out of their way to receive mail, and they had to share their box with a total stranger.

Most private colleges keep campus crime statistics secret for fear of losing their unblemished images. Now federal law requires that statistics of college crime be available to all incoming and returning students, faculty and staff. "More than 4,000 violent crimes — among them 16 murders and 493 rapes — were reported last year to security officials at the nation's 580 largest universities and colleges, the AP found through a review of figures released in September 1993 under the new federal disclosure law. The law covers 2,222 colleges and universities — schools that do not comply risk losing eligibility for federal money. According to the F.B.I., 42.3 rapes were reported per 100,000 people in the United States last year, while the schools surveyed by the AP reported 8.8 rapes per 100,000 students, which most victim advocates claim misrepresents reality. Many of these crimes happen off campus to students and they go unreported by the schools. This gives people the impression that rape is not happening when it is practically an epidemic!" (AP, Sept. 1993).

To protect yourself from becoming a victim, many police officers recommend using original mace or pepperguard and to beware of teargas canisters using CS gas. Personal alarms are also a good device to scare off an attacker, but mace is the choice of more professionals than any other protective device.

In an effort to keep crime to a minimum, Elon has installed new walkway lights, emergency phones in various locations, and offers safety awareness programs. A 24-hour escort service is also available to anyone who requests this service from the Security and Safety Office.

—Steve Felt

Cultural events are a large part of a student's social life and entertainment ring. Students are encouraged to attend these, and many classes require it. This year, progams included the Native American Symposium, poetry readings, sessions on nonviolence, racism and other important issues. Students and faculty entertained with recitals in Yeager Recital Hall, the Isabella Cannon Room and Godwin Suite became showrooms for art exhibits, and the Fine Arts Theatre became the McEwen Theatre where productions such as the Dayton Contemporary Dance Company and 3D Productions' Lend Me A Tenor filled the stage.

Elon's two jazz groups, Élan and the Emanons, came together for the first time on stage in February, and performances from the Community Orchestra, the Percussion and Wind Ensembles, the Elon Dancers, the Choir and Chamber Singers, and the Drama Department's renditions of Anything Goes and Scapino! made us proud!

With such a wide array of cultural events, there's no reason to complain that there's nothing to do.

ELON COLLEGE CLOSES DUE TO FLU EPIDEMIC . . . This could have been a news headline if the rumors had not been investigated throughly by local networks. Elon did not close, but the flue had R.N. Ellington Health Center packed to the brim! Normally the waiting time before being seen is approximately 30 minutes, but the time during flu season was closer to 90 minutes. Providing good service isn't always timely. R.N. Janie Salter explains, "This is because of the tremendous number of people that come in here every day. We have to keep charts on every person, fill prescriptions and conduct one-on-one counseling. This kind of service takes time."

The facility has grown from a one-room office/examining room located in Long Student Center to a multi-room facility with six part-time physicians on staff who together offer full-time coverage.

The waiting room is usually full, but as Pam McNeill found, good service comes to those who wait.

Homecoming 1992 was dedicated to the talents of Walt Disney, and controversy arose. Walt Disney has very strict regulations on their copyrighted artwork, and the Elon students participating in the Homecoming events were subject to all of the regulations. One such regulation was the destruction of any and all artwork, props, and anything else that had any Walt Disney character displayed on it. This angered Elon s artists because they feel that their work of art should not be destroyed. Many artists who were competing for different organizations, petitioned the school to change the theme to a Halloween theme, but their efforts failed.

A clip of artwork was sent to the Pendulum with many Disney characters censored. This was a protest to the Disney theme and showed just how angry some artists were. While many students like the works of Disney, others were in protest of the Homecoming events.

WATCH WHERE YOU PUT THAT! Just when we thought we had it all sorted out (the trash that is), the recycling process changed again. Recycling became mandatory in Alamance County on July 1. Bright blue containters appeared in offices for recycling paper products, and specially marked containers appeared in every building — one for recycleables and another for trash only. Elon built and now maintains its own Recycling Separation Center located behind the landscape building, next to Bakatsias Soccer Field.

This year marked the end of the Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity at Elon College. The national office revoked the colony charter because the restarted organization was not meeting the national requirements for chartering. While many of the brothers were initiated as Pi Kaps, they are still trying to find another national fraternity that will grant them a charter. Elon's Dean of Greek Affairs, Amanda Harless, said she was unaware of any problems the organization was having. But the national office states the reasons as a lack of members, and that the organization was taking too long to meet the national standards for rechartering. Brothers of the Pi Kappa Phi colony say that this action has done nothing to their brotherhood, and that they were looking for another organization with which to be associated. The Pi Kappa Phi national organization plans to recruit new members in the fall of 1993, but the colony members are not planning an attempt to recolonize.

Elon and the world suffered a great loss in January . . . Danielle Rokely. Words to convey this loss are difficult, but the feelings of the Elon community are best expressed in a letter written to Danie by her friends and summarized by Michelle Keaney, University of Scranton:

". . . Your memory will forever be kept alive in the hearts of those who loved you. To some, you say you will miss them — to others you can never say goodbye — and you, Danie, are one of those people. We will never stop missing you, just as we will never stop loving you."

Drinking, laughing, having fun,
Lets go out, the night's begun.

Friends and strangers in the crowd,
Noticing people all around.

Feeling safe. Feeling cool
The guy comes up and makes his move.

He's cute and charming; No reason for fear
Talking for hours, he's being a dear.

Driving home and talking more,
"Come on up." He starts his lure.

Kissing, hugging, making out,
No reason for fear. No reason for doubt.

All of a sudden, he's on top.
Kicking, screaming, he won't stop.

"You know you want it!" Is all you hear,
All your fun has turned to fear.

"NO! NO! NO!" Is all you can say,
But his grip is so tight, you can't get away.

It's done, It's over — Time to go home,
Where do you turn, you're all alone.

I'll forget! Even though it hurts a lot,
The problem is, THE BODY WILL HEAL,
BUT THE MIND WILL NOT!!

As students and faculty park their cars in the parking lots, they notice the blue lights that are now found in various places across campus. These blue lights have an emergency phone attached to them. According to Traffic Monitor James DeBerry these lights were installed in the Jordan Center, commuter, Library, Long Student Center, East Campus and Harper Center parking lots for emergency useage.

In case of an assault, car trouble or for calling an escort, a person can just press a button and receive assistance. These phones make students, faculty and staff feel safer.

NO SMOKING!

Elon has passed a no smoking rule on campus. Students are not permitted to smoke inside campus buildings except in their own rooms. Does this take away what has become known as "smoker's rights"? Some say it does, but others disagree. Smokers can smoke in their rooms and outside. The only way this would take away smoker's rights is if the ban was in all rooms and outside.

So, if you are a smoker, from now on you will have to wait to light up until you are outside or in your room.

Change.

It's occurring all around us at Elon College.
It's occurring in the structure of our buildings,
In the organization of our courses and curriculum,
In the makeup of our faculty and student body,
In the overall plans and direction of this institution.
Change.

It hasn't always been pleasant.
It's surely created some inconveniences.
Academically,
Recreationally,
Socially.

But it hasn't been change just for the sake of change.

It's change based on a vision you have helped to shape.
Of an Elon preparing itself to be even stronger in the years ahead.
Of an Elon — by its example — preparing you to handle
The Challenges of Change.

Changes that will influence possible directions
For your personal lives.
For your professional careers.
For this institution's future.
Elon is preparing today,
Through change,
To shape change.
And in changing,
Becoming stronger.
Becoming a better "enabler"
Of the talents of others.

Hopefully more visionary.
Hopefully more capable.
Hopefully more caring.

Change.
For the Future.
For the Better.
For You.

Powerful economic and political winds sweeping across our planet are producing unprecedented changes in governments, in schools, in families, in the world of work, in foreign policy and even in entire societies. Elon College provides no special shelter from these winds of change. Indeed, all of us at Elon are obligated to "catch the wind" and steer a lively course into the future. The college exists for the expressed purpose of producing and rewarding change in human beings and, through them, in our world.

As it serves to change the lives of people here, the college changes, too. The change is constant, dynamic, sometimes almost imperceptible, and often profound. Several examples of change currently in process come immediately to mind. Faculty and students are working together to design new educational programs, from General Studies to majors. Faculty are developing new teaching methods that more actively engage students as individuals and in groups in the learning process. New technology — computer terminals in the library, classrooms, office and laboratories that link the college with information resources throughout the world; automated classrooms in Carlton; telephone answering machines in student rooms and faculty offices; environmental controls that maintain temperate climates in the buildings — are transforming the ways in which we communicate, analyze and learn. New domestic off-campus and international programs of study are clarifying knowledge of our own culture while they produce more informed appreciation of others. Hundreds of student volunteers are unselfishly offering their services to those less fortunate in the community. New students are bringing sparkling fresh talent to the performing arts and playing fields. New programs of orientation to college and preparation for productive careers upon graduation reflect changing expectations of students and society. The brick walls of the campus are symbolically stretching to encompass the globe as students, faculty and staff work, learn and serve on nearly every continent. Physical evidence of change is apparent in the transformation of the 40-plus-year old gymnasium, physical education, and recreation complex into the campus's newest facility.

The most exciting evidence of a changing Elon is reflected by everyone's higher expectations for quality in all that we attempt together: The depth and diversity of our academic and social encounters; the intellectual and practical appeal of our ideas; the content and rigor of our debates; the emerging values and principles that govern our personal and professional lives; and finally, the developing confidence that we will have the knowledge, courage and the responsibility to shape a more promising 21st century.

Finding a quiet place is sometimes difficult, but Kristen Rogers solved the problem when she perched on the window sill in West.

ARTS & ACADEMICS

From the new, high-tech classrooms in Carlton to the Macintosh Lab in the Fine Arts building to I•R•I•S (McEwen Library's new catalog computer system) Elon has expanded its academic facilities to make studying for students an easier and more enjoyable process.

The number of arts programs range from dance and theatre productions such as this fall's Anything Goes to spinning a potter's wheel or to a number of musical ensembles such as Élan and the Emanons. The wide variety allowed each student to find an outlet for his or her own talent, gave each student a means of viewing Elon from different perspectives, opened doors for making new friendships and created a chance for some wonderful memories.

The Native American Experience: Walking in Two Worlds

Elon's Fall Theme, The Native American Experience: Walking in Two Worlds, began before the semester when incoming freshmen were required to read Tony Hillerman's book, A Thief of Time, and continued throughout the fall, giving us an opportunity to CHANGE OUR PERSPECTIVES of Native American issues. Some of the artists and lecturers are pictured here — others included:

◆ ROGER MANLY, a photographer whose works "Scattered Feathers" were exhibited in the Isabella Cannon Room and Godwin Suite of the Fine Arts Building. Native American crafts from the southeastern United States were also exhibited.

◆ LAURA HILL HUGHES, a teacher of the Cherokee language and history at Cherokee High School, presented a program of stories, songs and dances that demonstrated the Cherokee tradition and contemporary culture.

◆ ARNOLD RICHARDSON, a member of the Haliwa-Saponi tribe from northeastern North Carolina, is a nationally recognized carver of red cedar flutes. His program, "Walking in Two Worlds," was a combination of Native American flute music and lecture about how he continues to honor his traditional culture.

◆ SUZAN SHOWN HARJO, author, poet and political analyst, is president of the Morning Star Foundation and former director of the National Congress of American Indians. She presented an overview of the status of Native American human rights on the national scene.

◆ WILLIAM BALDRIDGE, associate professor of Native American Ministries at Central Baptist Seminary in Kansas City and member of the Cherokee Nation of Oklahoma, lectured concerning "Health, Healer and Place: A Native American Perspective."

BILL MILLER, singer and songwriter, says his songs come from the teachings of his grandfather and his experience growing up on the Stockbridge-Munsee Indian Reservation in central Wisconsin. His recordings include Old Dreams and New Hopes (1987), The Art of Survival (1990), Loon, Mountain, and Moon: Native American Flute Songs (1991), and Reservation Road: Bill Miller Live (1992). Miller currently lives in Nashville, Tennessee.

DORIS LEADER CHARGE, a teacher of the Lakota language and culture, served as translator and language coach for the film Dances With Wolves. In addition to her convocation speech "Beyond Dances With Wolves," Leader Charge held a bead working class and a question/answer session. She lectures about preserving the Lakota culture and language, and about the problems of contemporary life on the Rosebud Reservation.

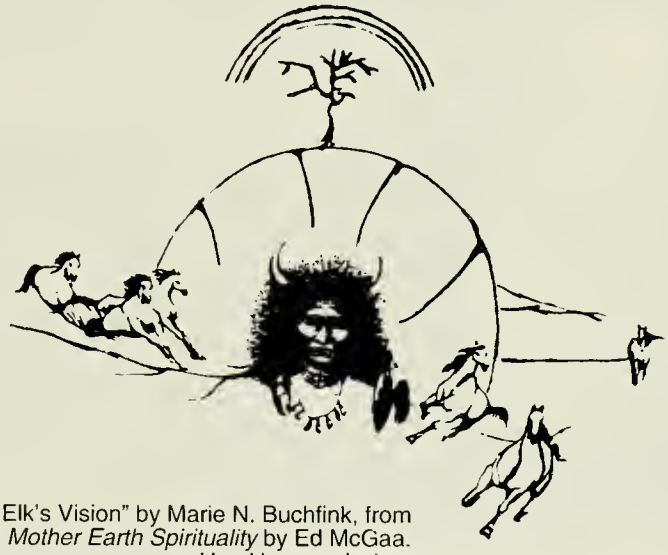
ED McGAA, Eagle Man, is an Oglala Sioux lawyer, writer and lecturer who has introduced thousands to Native American spirituality and rituals. In his compelling introduction to Native American philosophy, history and rites, Mother Earth Spirituality and Rainbow Tribe, McGaa teaches us how to reconnect with and heal our wounded earth.



"Black Elk's Vision" by Marie N. Buchfink, from Mother Earth Spirituality by Ed McGaa. Used by permission.

Author TONY HILLERMAN has received awards as diverse as the Edgar, France's Grand Prix de Littérature Policière, and the Navajo Tribe's Special Friend Award. Other Hillerman novels include Coyote Waits, Talking God, Skinwalkers, The Dark Wind, The Blessing Way and Dance Hall of the Dead. A past president and grandmaster of the Mystery Writers of America, Hillerman lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Study Abroad ...India

Giving students an opportunity to meet people of other nations and become familiar with other cultures is what Study Abroad is all about. Many students report this as the most memorable of their college experiences. As Kara Killough says, "There is no way I could have imagined this without actually experiencing it. It was one of the most meaningful experiences of my life." To obtain a CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE, there is no better way than to see another part of the world during a semester in the Study Abroad program.

Sports

Through all the practices and games played during a year, a desire for winning is acquired. The wins and losses add joy and heartache to life. After all is done and the season complete, life goes on and changes in attitude become apparent. Some students looking forward to next year will return and others, looking back and remembering, will go on to new adventures in life. When the season begins, they are a team. Each day, each game, each play and each point earned adds to the personality of the team and players. The excitement is shown in the crowds as they cheer for the Fightin' Christian teams. Each time a basket is made, an ace is served, or a touchdown is run in the endzone there is a change of perspective.

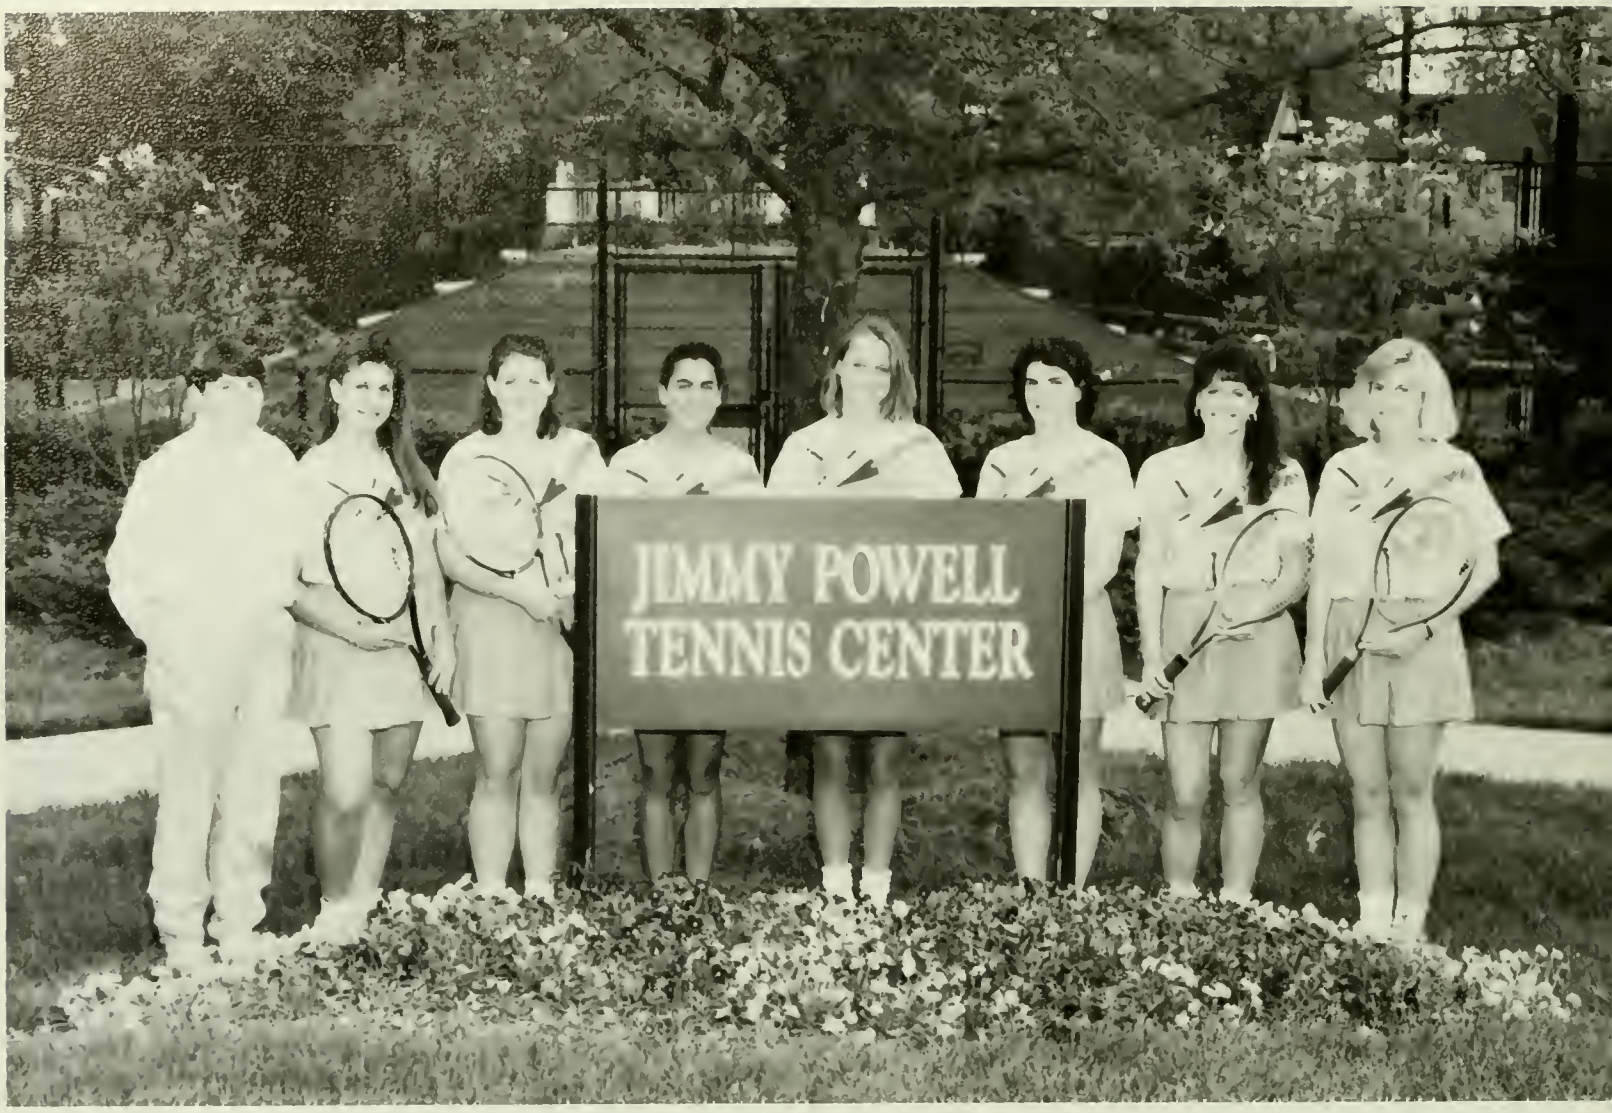
Baseball

Softball



One could say that success was the key word for the 1993 Elon College Women's Tennis Team. The lady netters not only won the South Atlantic Conference Championship but also placed second in NAIA District 26 competition, making them eligible for the NAIA tournament in late May where they represented Elon for a chance at the national title.

Elon was also lucky to have five players to make the All-Conference team. These players are Nicole Heer, Sarah Delfausse, Jen Dreyson, Paige Fuller and Fumiko Masuda. Fuller also received the Freshman of the Year award and Masudo received Player of the Year within the SAC.

All in all the Elon lady netters finished with an undefeated 7-0 conference record and 10-0 district record.

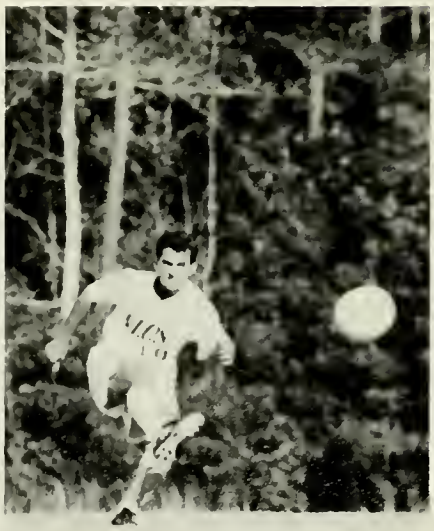
Men's Soccer



The Lady Fightin' Christian Soccer Team had the dream to make it to the national tournament, just as all teams do, however they are different from most teams in that they realized that dream.

The team had a very successful season which led them to winning the regular season championship and South Atlantic Conference Championship. After that, the team was ready for its post-season play where they beat Lees McRae and Coker to be crowned NAIA District 26 Champions. The team was then off to Biloxi, Mississippi, for regional competition where they beat host school William Cary and the number one ranked Lynn University, who eventually won the NAIA championship. After taking the Southern Regional Championship the Fightin' Christians were again traveling, but this time to Tacoma, Washington, for the NAIA Women's Soccer Championship, just as they had dreamed.

Freshman midfielder Ginger Stalcup said, "After winning our conference championship, the team had the confidence that we could go all the way and we did — all the way to the nationals. It was a great feeling knowing that we are one of the best teams in the nation."

Unfortunately Elon lost to the number two ranked Pacific Lutheran University, who also served as the home team, and thereby eliminating their chances at a national championship. They did, however, end the season with an overtime win over Georgian Court, a season SAC 6-1-0 record and almost unbelievable 19-6-0 overall record.

Organizations use colorful balloons to try to attract students to their tables at the organizational fair.

ORGANIZATIONS

As a new year comes about, so do new leaders, new goals, and new organizations. Elon has a wide variety of organizations which work hard to earn needed funds in order to meet their goals. The leaders give the groups direction and the members give added effort. Organizations not only provide a place for friendships to form and interests to grow, but also great contributions to the community and college. From the houses of Habitat for Humanity to the excitement and games of Greek Week, each organization brings its own personality, its own purpose, and its own benefits that are visible all around the campus. For first year students who are just starting, it is an opportunity to find friends with common interests, and for the seniors who have become leaders, it is a lifestyle.

Mission Statement

To provide all members of the Elon College campus the opportunity to develop an ethic of service by connecting campus and community through volunteer experiences!

Service Programs

Service Programs offer volunteers the opportunity to work with issues that concern them on a long term basis. These programs deal with many different community issues. Student Coordinators provide constant support to the volunteers working in each individual program.

The Elon College Campus Chapter Of Habitat for Humanity

Can you use a hammer to drive a nail
Or a brush to paint a wall?
Have you ever thought of people you know
Who haven't a home at all?
can you spare an hour or more, sometime...
To give as our Lord commands?
If so, friend, you're needed by "H.F.H."
Bring your heart, your hammers and hands!
- Cathy Delk

FALL
Land Drive

Some excited Elon Habitat members had fun sleeping out by the fountain in card board boxes, hoping to get land donated to build a house on in the Spring. Habitat also centered their homecoming activitied around raising awareness about their need for donated land.

WINTER
Florida

In late August, 1992, Hurricane Andrew destroyed thousands of houses in Homestead, Florida. Twelve Habitat students and Chaplain Richard McBride joined the Miami Affiliate of Habitat for Humanity in rebuilding the communities that suffered the worst damage.

SPRING
Building Dreams

Many dreams became reality when a plot of land in the town of Elon College was donated early in the semester. The entire campus and community began working in partnership with the Alamance Affiiate of Habitat for Humanity to build a simple, decent home.

Our mission is to capture the imagination, energy, and hope of students in order to productively and responsibly involve them in the work of Habitat for Humanity. Habitat for Humanity seeks to eliminate poverty housing form the world and to make decent shelter a matter of conscience and action.

This year, Phi Psi Cli faced many hardships. Due to staff changes at mid-semester, the yearbook has gone through complete change. We have saved the yearbook, met with deans and tried to put the pieces back together.

Even though we had trouble meeting deadlines, we feel that we put 100% into this book. When the year started, there was only one staff member. The numbers soon grew, but again they dropped. By the end of the year, the yearbook staff had 11 members who worked together to meet the remaining deadlines. We hope you enjoy this yearbook, but expect a much better one next year.

What does SGA do? More than we know. This year SGA has been extremely involved with helping the students. They questioned students about their feelings concerning issues ranging from campus food to visitation hours. This year they have even put a student on the town council so that students' views can be heard. SGA has worked for the students all year, and plans to keep doing so in the years to come.

Math Club

Students who are majoring in mathematics, can join Elon's Mathematical Honor Society. This organization gives students a better understanding of the field, and helps them pinpoint a particular type of work they might be interested in. All members worked hard to become a part of this organization, and feel that all their work will one day pay off.

In today's world, women need support and understanding from others who know what they are facing. This is why Women in Communications is an important organization for women if they plan to major or work in the communications field. The members in this organization help one another decide where they are headed and how to get there. They are working together to fight the stereotyping of women who are pursuing a carrier in communications.

Every year, SUB provides students with activities to enjoy. This year SUB brought singers, comedians, movies, and even a hypnotist. Other activities that were brought to life this year included spring fling week, Casino night, and a fair. All of these events got students involved, and helped the college to unite. Many friends and memories were made at these events, and thanks to SUB, they will last for a lifetime.

SUB did exactly what students wanted. It brought people and games to Elon, that most students would never have had the opportunity to see or do. The campus came together at these events, thanks to the Student Union Board.

WSOE

Students are what made WSOE the success that it was this past year. Students were in charge of advertising, time slots, and even DJ-ing. The campus tuned in to listen to the latest music that was hitting North Carolina and to hear the corny jokes that made all who listened laugh. Without WSOE, students would never get to learn and show their radio talents.

Intervarsity brought students together through good, clean fun. They sing songs, talk about problems, and hold meetings every Tuesday night. At these meetings, they read from the Bible and talk about how God has affected their lives.

Intervarsity, is a way for students to forget about their problems and to take time and get away. Everyone involved has stories to tell about all the activities they have done, and will be happy to share them.

The business fraternity, Alpha Kappa Psi, is taking the right steps toward their future careers in business. The members are involved in bringing speakers to Elon to talk about the future business world and its ups and downs. All members must have a 2.5 grade point average to qualify for pledging, and all members go through a selection process. So those who join are the pick of the crop.

Alpha Xi Delta was founded on April 17, 1893 at Lombard College in Galesburg, Illinois. Theta Nu Chapter was chartered on February 13, 1993. Their mascot is the teddy bear, often dubbed "Bet-Xi Bear." Their flower is the pink Killarney rose and their colors are "double blue and gold," or light blue, dark blue and gold. The quill is their symbol and they wear it in the form of a fraternity pin.

Sigma Pi is not only involved with campus activities, but also community events as well. The brothers participate in intramural sports, community projects, student government, and academics. They feel they are one of the most diverse organizations on campus.

They not only help the community locally, but also nationally. Sigma Pi works to earn money for their philanthropy, Multiple Sclerosis, which enables many people across the nation to receive help.

The Phi Mu sisters had many objectives at the beginning of the year and feel they met most of them. They held a canned food drive, shop with a cop, had a Christmas party for the elderly and children who were away from family and they raised money all year for their philanthropy Children's Miracle Network.

The sisters feel their biggest advantage is diversity. With 87 members in the sorority, it is sometimes difficult to maintain unity, but they feel they have done a good job this past year. This sorority is quick to recognize that sisterhood is accepting differences and similarities and that knowledge has helped them stay close during the past year.

Phi Mu hopes that students will not just see the letters they wear, but view each sister as the person she is. As one sister says, "Those people have a very shallow viewpoint."

The brothers of Sigma Chi have accomplished many activities to help both the community and their philanthropy. They have had a canned food drive, a clothes drive, worked on a highway clean up activity, and raised money for their philanthropy, the Children's Miracle Network. This year the brothers helped start SAFE RIDE, a program that offers students at Elon a designated driver if he/she is too intoxicated to drive.

The brothers held their second annual alcohol awareness program this year. The program was designed to teach students how to drink responsibly. The brothers feel that the program was a huge success and that many students left the program with more knowledge of responsible drinking than they had thought possible. Sigma Chi hopes they can continue this program in the following years, so that students can learn that drinking is more than fun and games, it is a life or death activity.

Even though Sigma Chi is so diverse, the brothers feel that they have a tight bond of brotherhood that cannot be broken. All of them have done their part in helping the surrounding community and the school, and feel that as a fraternity they have accomplished a great deal in the past year.

Sigma Phi Epsilon

Sigma Pi Epsilon participated in a bike-a-thon for the Muscular Dystrophy Association and has worked with Elon Homes for Children this year. The brothers feel that the tightness of the group and the diversity of the group are what makes them so unique. They also feel that there are no disadvantages of the fraternity, but do feel that stereotyping occurs with Greek organizations due to the ignorance of the non-Greeks.

With what they consider a good reputation on and off campus, they have no reason to feel inferior to anyone. The brothers of Sigma Pi Epsilon have made their mark at Elon and hope to enhance the school even more in the coming years.

The sisters of Alpha Omicron Pi are involved in many community service projects throughout the year. They hold fund-raisers every year for Arthritis Research, their philanthropy, and volunteer time and effort to such community projects as the annual Burlington Carousel Festival. AOΠ is dedicated to being an active part of the community and stresses the importance of helping others.

Having lost a member of their fraternity last year, Kappa Sigma feels they realize the true meaning of brotherhood. Since most of the brothers do not talk about the death of Chad Macey often, when asked how the fraternity dealt with the death, a look of sorrow covered the brothers' faces. They feel they have become closer and have learned the hard way just what brotherhood means. After Macey's death, the brothers comforted each other, and realized how dear the word "fraternity" is.

This year Kappa Sigma set many goals such as increasing community service, helping with the homeless shelter, and working with Elon Exchange.

With 52 members, they feel the fraternity is a well-rounded one that stresses individuality, but a problem they have noticed is that there is very little school support given to Greek organizations. Kappa Sigma is a fraternity that has seen all aspects of brotherhood, and they feel they are closer than most fraternities on campus due their experiences — both good and bad.

The guys with the red bandanas are no longer wearing their traditional local colors. This year marks the dramatic turn around for KA at Elon College with the 35 brothers striving for excellence in community service and Greek unity. Their numbers may be small, but their bond is enormous. The brothers of Kappa Alpha Order have adopted the Party Smart Program, and have abolished keg parties. KA would like all the Greeks at Elon to follow them in this new program.

One of the two black fraternities on campus, Kappa Alpha Psi feels they offer much more than the interracial fraternities on campus. The fraternity has set goals that will make them more active in community services and more involved with the white organizations on campus.

None of the brothers looked into interracial fraternities because they felt that the interracial fraternities could not provide the same type of brotherhood they have found in Kappa Alpha Psi. The brothers feel that being part of a black fraternity keeps them in touch with their cultural background, which is sometimes forgotten when blacks become students at predominately all-white campuses such as Elon.

With only eight members in the fraternity, there are advantages and disadvantages. An advantage is the tightness of the group, but a disadvantage is the limitations which result from the lack of finances, a problem larger fraternities do not face.

Lambda Chi Alpha is one of the largest growing international fraternities as well as here at Elon. The two-year-old colony got their charter September 19, 1992, and became Delta Pi Zeta chapter. With activities such as their first annual Angel Tree to help bring gifts to children through Salvation Army, they have taken a leading role in the community.

The gentlemen of Delta Pi Zeta also have had the highest cumulative grade point average for the last two years.

Alpha Kappa Alpha had many expectations this year as always. The sisters wanted to promote sisterhood and service to all mankind. They did this by adopting a highway, working at the health fair, and helping with Read to a Child.

The sisters' philanthropy is Cleveland Job Corps, an organization that helps underpriviledged minorities. This philanthropy was founded by Alpha Kappa Alpha when the organization first started.

All the sisters agree, Alpha Kappa Alpha promotes true sisterhood, and all the sisters are true ladies. They made this year a great one by helping each other and the surrounding community.

Alpha Sigma Alpha strived to enhance their spiritual, academic, intellectual, physical, and social lives this year. They have done this by working with Special Olympics, collecting canned food, and adopting a highway. With only 59 girls in the sorority, the sisters feel they are a closer group than most larger sororities. But one of the downfalls of having fewer members is that they do not have as much money to help their philanthropy, Special Olympics.

The sisters stress individuality and encourage everyone to be themselves. They have tried to add something to the campus that would reflect the good of their organization They care deeply about academics, but feel that everyone needs to have fun, so they organized time from their academic activities to do just that.

This sorority feels their letters are symbolic, are proud to wear them, and be recognized by them.

With 88 members Zeta Tau Alpha is one of the largest sororities on campus. The sisters' philanthropy is Susan G. Commen, which helps women who are fighting breast cancer. Everyone agrees that what they are doing for their philanthropy will affect many women all over the country.

The sisters consider themselves lucky to have so many members in their organization. They feel that there is always someone to turn to if the need arises. But the sisters also feel that the letters they wear has a disadvantage, because most people associate the person with their organization. The sisters feel that if people would open their minds, they will see that the person wearing the letters is special in her own way.

One hundred participation is difficult with 82 members, but that was one of Sigma Sigma Sigma's goals this year, along with improving Greek relations, working with Elon Homes for Children, assisting at Twin Lakes, and working with family abuse.

Their philanthropy is Robby Paige Memorial, which is set up to supply hospitalized children with toys and games. The sisters feel this philanthropy is a unique one and that others should get involved with it even if they are not a part of this Greek organization.

Sigma Sigma Sigma feels they have a sense of belonging unmatched by other organizations and that friendship and individuality are the best things the sorority offers.

Community

Since Elon College opened its doors to its first class in 1890, the town of Elon College and the surrounding area has been growing yearly by leaps and bounds.

Area businesses rely heavily on students in the workforce, especially in food services such as ARA (Varsity Grille) and local restaurants like Brown & Company and Sidetracks.

Students also provide needed voluntary services for organizations such as Habitat for Humanity, Special Olympics, Meals on Wheels, the homeless shelter and visits to senior citizens in local retirement centers.

With this volume of student involvement, there is a shared learning experience for everyone involved, an increased awareness of perspectives, and everybody profits by the exchange.

Waiting for Bill Clinton and Al Gore was almost an all day event, but fatigue didn't keep the crowds from drifting away.

Another year at Elon has come to a close. New friendships have been formed and new experiences have taken place.

Graduates now move on to other aspects of life, learning to deal with different problems and making even more friends. The other students will return for another year of studying and college life. They have many more things to learn before entering the work force.

All the friendships formed will be remembered for a lifetime, no matter where life takes the graduates or underclassmen. This "new place" has now become a second home, where memories were made and relationships built. Elon is everlasting, as are the memories. All the good times, people met, and the knowledge gained allow each one of us to experience a CHANGE OF PERSPECTIVE.
